

ACCIDENT AND DEATH: On last Saturday a-week (says The Examiner) Mr. Daniel Pfoutz, an old and respected citizen of Warwick-twp., while assisting at a barn raising, had his foot crushed by the falling of a girder. At first it was thought that amputation would be necessary, but at the solicitation of Mr. P. the physician deferred it. For several days the wound appeared to be healing, but subsequently lock-jaw intervened and on Sunday last terminated fatally.
